

Name:
Period:

Social Boundary Interview Response Sheet

1. Examine the artwork in front of you. Identify the symbols, colors, textures, shapes, objects and images.

-
-
-
-
-
-

2. Now pretend that you are the print or photograph and you have the opportunity to ask the artists questions about yourself. For example why did you (the artists) choose to paint the little girl's dress blue? Write 3-4 questions for the artists and make up a creative response based on what you think the image is trying to communicate about Social Boundaries”:

Questions:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

Answers:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

3. In 2-3 complete sentences summarize the message of the work. Include a description of what social boundary you think the artist is communicating and give a personal response (reflecting on your own experiences with this social boundary).

---

---

---

---

4. Consider alternatives, different views or perspectives on that social boundary. List one or two ways you could “break” that social boundary.

---

---

5. Plan a visual way to represent breaking the social boundary. You will be altering the original artwork to symbolize breaking the social boundary and/or offering an alternative. You only have one chance to communicate your ideas, discuss you plan with your tablemates and teacher. Following the various demonstrations of how to alter the image, carefully and thoughtfully proceed on your plan.